I'm constantly amazed at the quantity of assessments we give our students.

And you?

I'm amazed at the amount of times I visit a school to see the fantastic activities the teachers told me they've created, only to find out that once again, they have been obligated to give evaluations.

Sound like your schedule?

How often is the image below what you're looking at in your classroom?
TOO often, right?

Feedback

Well, we can combat this trend...

In the BEST of circumstances, we can use evaluations as a LEARNING EXPERIENCE.
